Streetology 1 Network, latest Online Video Broadcast Site, Proves to be an Ideal Platform for Indie Music Artists

NEW YORK, NY – Streetology Production’s Inc., a company that provides a wide range of concept and production services to clients in the entertainment industry, is announcing their latest interactive online video broadcast website, Streetology 1 Network as the latest platform for Indie music artists.

Recently launched in March 2008, Streetology 1 Network is a double-platform site that offers users the opportunity to network as well as the ability to create video pages, participate in web conferencing, instant message and engages in audio chats all on one site.

“Streetology 1 Network is very ideal for Indie artists and Indie music labels to promote themselves and stay connected with their fans,” says Streetology 1 Network’s CEO, Jacob Smith. “The site is currently streamlining videos for Indie artists, including artists in the UK which has proved to be a huge success for those who have taken advantage of the network’s capabilities.”

Streetology 1 Network allows artists to upload their music videos and gigs, conduct 4-way video conferences with their fans and create and streamline web shows. All these features will act towards helping artists stay interactive with their fans on a daily basis.

Artists who become part of the Streetology 1 Network will also have the opportunity to partake in the network’s events, including their upcoming “Call to Artist Tour” which will be a music tour specifically for Indie music artists. Artists who partake in the tour will have their performances and interviews with Streetology 1 Network’s celebrity correspondent, Yobi. The performances and interviews will later be streamlined on the network. During interviews artists can also promote and brand themselves through product placement opportunities on Streetology 1 Network.

Entertainment experts Jacob Smith and Lou Duarte are the brains behind Streetology 1 Network. With more than 25 years of combined experience in the entertainment and production industry, Smith and Duarte created a site that would make it easier for people to stay connected and linked online. "It's a one-stop networking spot," says Duarte.
